

Missouri State Wines available at PFI's Diamond Ridge Market

Missouri State University and PFI's Diamond Ridge Market are pleased to announce the release of Missouri State University's Mountain Grove Cellars 2008 vintage line of Missouri wine. The Mountain Grove Cellars is located at the State Fruit Experiment Station of Missouri State University. The facility supports research conducted on specific winemaking problems and offers educational opportunities for Missouri State department of agriculture students who are interested in enology. Each bottle of wine purchased will help support MSU's viticulture and research programs.

2008 Release:

2008 Mountain Grove Cellars Chambourcin – Light bodied and deep magenta in color with aromas of fresh cut herbs, berries, and a hint of vanilla. On the palate, plums and blackberries, then finished off with a touch of Oak. Pair with grilled steak or pasta in a heavy red sauce. ~ T. Jolley

Alumni Sale Price: $19.99

2008 Mountain Grove Cellars Maroon Blend- A blend of Norton and Chambourcin. Glass Staining, inky purple in color, with aromas of ripe fruits, herbs and spices. Rich and mouth-filling on the palate, carried on by a jammy lingering plum essence. ~T. Jolley

Alumni Sale Price: $19.99

2008 Mountain Grove Cellars Pink Catawba- Light pink in color, with aromas of bubble gum and a hint of orange citrus. On the palate, semi-sweet up front, carried on by a huge mandarin orange essence with a lengthy slightly dry finish. An excellent companion for spicy oriental foods. ~T. Jolley

$15.99

2008 Mountain Grove Cellars Norton dessert wine- Rich and aromatic, this Norton port style wine is sure to impress even the most advanced palate that demands flavor. Great after dinner with dessert, or even as a dessert by serving it over ice cream. This is a must have for any Missouri Norton fan. Quantities are extremely limited. Only 24 Bottles remaining.

$23.99

These wines are extremely limited in production and will be available for a limited time exclusively at PFI's Diamond Ridge Market. Each bottle is hand filled, and hand labeled. For any other information please contact Tyler Jolley at (417) 889-2668.
